

Friday
5⁰⁰ P.M.

Dear Tom: We are still here! Great!
2 is 5 hrs late - expects to go there between 6 and 7 P.M. First thought we would take the bus but called Sis and she thought we should stick with original plans
as it would be a good time for her to meet us when the kids were asleep & traffic nil.

We have spent our time
looking for your books but have come up with nothing. Are you sure you haven't them down there?

It's 4° below here and quite a bit of snow. Winter "hit" all of a sudden.

Can see your point in not making the Mpls trip. With one

Coming up I imagine you are busy.

Have re-read your "Key Canal" and the nice comment from your instructor.

Rickey stopped in from school and wants to know who I am writing to. I think Rust sorta senses that there is something up - he looks sad.

We were already to leave the house when we got the late report.

If you have any "more clues" as to where these books might be we could take up the search again on Monday.

Just this short note as there will be no letter tonight.

Call us at Keyes on Sunday if you are lonesome.

Mom.
